

Each group is assigned a color and each week when they come in a "special helper" will be chosen to Do "X Marks the spot". They will Place the x at the destination we are exploring that week. This allows the children to see which groups have already visited that destination as well as which groups have yet to visit that week. This emphasises the sense of adventure for the children.

