Week Two: August 8 - 12 (Monday to Friday)

Morning Session (Ages 8 - 11)

9:00am - 12:00pm

Afternoon Session (Ages 12 - 17)

1:00 - 4:00pm

Calling all authors and poets, reporters and screen writers, graphic novelists and storytellers...this just might be the "write" camp for you to get started down your literary path.

If you love to write, have a collection of work you'd like to improve, and want to create something new...spend a week (or two) with published author and poet Leanne Myggland-Carter.

Using fun and interactive writing prompts and exercises (such as adding the 3rd dimension to your storytelling, borrowing words from some classics, and designing word art) Leanne will help you get started, edit, revise, and get started again. You will also learn about local writing contests and publishing opportunities.

By the end of each week, you will have published your words online, learned how to promote your works, and be ready to complete more writing projects on your own.

To apply, please complete the web form on sgpl.ca before noon on Friday, June 24, 2016. Don't delay—space is limited.
